

Download Software Contract Solutions

Software Licensing Types Explained. Wisegeek explains software licensing as a type of contract which exists between the person of company who produces a type of software, and the end user, or person who purchases or downloads the software to use. A contract management software pioneer since 2006, we provide a highly secure, easy to use and set up contract management system. Schedule a demo today! Increase Your Visibility With the World's Most Complete Contract Management Software. Contracts are central to every business. Employment contracts administer your workforce, NDAs protect your IP, sales contracts underpin your profit, purchase agreements manage your procurement — and the list goes on. Caprivi achieves Workflow automatization using K2 to achieve a veratile workflow with out code. Ensuring a high degree of reusability all of Caprivi Solutions workflow solutions work well with other systems for data sharing.